“Local Law Firm Helps Kids Score in the UK”

EXTON, PENNSYLVANIA – The Cheltenham Saracens Reds Youth League have earned top honors from their peers by being recognized and awarded 2010-11 Sportsmen of the Year.

Sponsored by the Exton based international law firm of Bazil McNulty, this represents a superb achievement by the young players, all less than 9 years of age, when you bear in mind that most of these kids were unfamiliar with organized team sports prior to this past season. In fact, Coach David Miller said that most of the kids had been overlooked by the previous coach because of their inexperience. Miller then contacted Steve Bazil, principal partner at Bazil McNulty and colleague of Miller’s, hoping for sponsorship for this newly formed team. Bazil McNulty was pleased to sponsor the boys which enabled the team to enter the Saracens League. At the end of their first official season, the boys have earned recognition as Sportsmen of the Year! Miller stated that, “the award was richly deserved as they are a great bunch of kids who work hard and enjoy playing the game, rather than winning at all costs. The respect they show the opposition and referees is a credit to themselves, their parents, the club and Bazil McNulty.”

When asked about his involvement with the team, Mr. Bazil states that, “we believe that with the right mentoring and encouragement, everyone can have the chance to excel. The sportsmanship these young kids exhibit is a character trait and team-quality to be admired. We are proud to be able to offer them the sponsorship they deserve and wish them continued success in their next season.”
